

COLLEGE BREADTH REQUIREMENTS

DEPARTMENT OF ANTHROPOLOGY

Anthropology courses (including courses cross-listed with anthropology) may not be applied towards the breadth requirements. LING 020 may be used as a humanities breadth elective. Students who elect a double major may apply courses in one of the majors toward satisfaction of breadth requirements. No course may be applied to more than one breadth requirement, with the exception of the course taken to meet the Ethnicity requirement. Internships and independent studies may not be used to satisfy breadth requirements. Courses cross-listed with Business Administration, Education and Physical Education may not be used to satisfy breadth requirements. For more detailed information about breadth requirements, please consult the UCR General Catalog. It is the student's responsibility to verify those courses which fulfill subject requirements.

English 1A _____ English 1B _____ English 1C _____ {C AVERAGE, NO GRADE BELOW C- }

FOREIGN LANGUAGE {BA: 4TH QTR LEVEL WITH GRADE OF C BS: 3RD QTR LEVEL WITH GRADE OF C}

Students who plan to meet their foreign language requirement with the same foreign language they took in high school must take a foreign language placement exam before taking any foreign language classes to determine what course level they should enroll in. Students will not receive credit for courses taken below their level of proficiency. A sufficiently high score on the placement exam can fulfill the foreign language requirement. The placement exam may only be taken once.
